Rhee Urges U.S. To Join Attack On China

Aug. 8 Ticket Deadline Set By Show Committee

TICKET sales for the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities will definitely end on Sunday, Aug. 8, it was revealed last night at a meeting of the ticket committee at the East Stroudsburg High School.

No tickets will be available after the deadline, committee members announced. The end of sales was listed as one week before the show so that all forces may be utilized to prepare Memorial Stadium for the show and to cover the many other details involved in putting on a mammoth production of this type.

TICKET chairmen present at last night's meeting and the amount of money they have deposited at the present time include: Elwood Huffman, $600; Les Abeloff, $600; Floyd Butz, $70; Paul Lloyd, $1,070; Dick Fredenberg, $900; J. H. Stoner, $270; Gordon Coy Sr., $735, and Herman Smeltz, $500.

Rev. H. G. Durkin, St. Matthew's, is credited with a sale of $250, and Rev. Norman Savage, First Baptist Church, $10. Paul Bartholomew is general chairman of the entire ticket setup.

No report was received from the committee headed by Ted Vlechnicki.

Additional tickets have been sold as the drive nears the halfway point in total money, but no official count was available last night except as listed above.

TICKETS may be reserved in the future by telephoning the Paul Lloyd Sporting Goods Store, in Stroudsburg 3894. Tickets may also be purchased in person at the store, located at 123 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg.

Anyone wishing to make ticket reservations between 5 and 9 p.m. are asked to telephone Frank Lanterman, Stroudsburg 757.

The Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities show is being staged to raise $15,000 still needed to pay off the permanent lighting system now being constructed at Memorial Stadium.

A total of 3,000 tickets were originally put on sale at five dollars apiece.

TOM WARING, director of the show, announced last night that a couple of new innovations have been added to the program.

Golf balls, the type used in indoor practice, will be hit into the grandstand during "The Swings The Thing" golf show, being prepared and directed by Harry Obitz, head pro at Shawnee. Those catching the lucky number balls will win baseballs autographed by the New York Giants, Philadelphia Phillies, Baltimore Orioles, Philadelphia A's and Washington Senators. It is also quite possible that footballs autographed by the Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants will be produced. A basketball autographed by the Harlem Globetrotters may also be available.

THE SHOW will feature such well known personalities as Jane Froman, international singing star; Sterling Holloway, Hollywood personality; Joe Marine, Fred Ward, former heavyweight champ; Tommy Loughran, one of the greatest light heavyweights; Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York Boxing Commission; William Herrmann, famed gymnast and his troupe, and Ed Sullivan, president of the United States Soccer Football Association. Several other outstanding stars will be named in the near future.

There will also be a tug-of-war competition featuring local industries, while national champions in horse show pitching, casting and other events will also be on hand. Volunteer labor is working daily in an effort to put Memorial Stadium in near perfect condition for the gala outdoor program.

British Cabinet Ministers Ousted

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill replaced two of his cabinet ministers yesterday in a government shakeup that indicated he intends to stay on as Prime Minister. A third minister offered his resignation last night but there was no indication it had been accepted.

Churchill, 79 and under heavy pressure from his doctors and his wife to retire, filled two cabinet jobs vacated by resignations and reshuffled his junior aides in an obvious ministerial patch-up effort.

President Doubts War Will Result From Plane Episode, Expects Further Incidents

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower does not think the shooting down of the two Red planes will lead to war in the Far East.

He expressed this view at his weekly conference with Republican congressional leaders.

He gave them the news about the incident before it was made public by the State Department. The information was transmitted to the President as he was about to begin his meeting with the congressional chiefs. The President told them American planes were forced to blow the Communists out of the air because of being attacked by them.

"DOES THIS mean war," asked Sen. Homer Ferguson, Mich., chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

"No, it does not," replied the President emphatically. "The incident is serious, but not unexpected."

He explained that such clashes are likely due to strained relations between the U. S. and Reds. The President indicated that military authorities anticipate other episodes.

BUT THE PRESIDENT voiced belief that Red China is neither

House Sends Tax Revision Bill To Senate; Revenues Cut About $1.3 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's big tax revision program, slicing revenues about $1,363,000,000 in the fiscal year which began July 1, rolled through final House passage yesterday, 315 to 77.

Only Senate approval—scheduled today—is needed now to send to the White House the biggest tax overhaul in history.

The House defeated, 227-169, a last-ditch Democratic move to strip from the program a disputed tax cut on dividends. A similar fight over the dividend issue is expected in the Senate.

On final passage, 201 Republicans and 114 Democrats voted for the bill. Three Republicans, 73 Democrats and one Independent voted against it.

THE COMPROMISE bill, running about 1,000 pages, revamps the entire national tax structure. It does not change major rates but it gives individuals and business firms scores of new or bigger tax deductions.

For individuals, the deductions would go principally to families with large medical expenses, mothers who must work to support their children, retired persons, parents of children who work, and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Business firms and individuals alike would benefit from the dividend tax cut. Business firms also would be given much more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, more liberal treatment of research expenses, greater freedom to set aside surpluses, more power to offset losses in bad years against profits in good years, and less stringent accounting requirements.

MOST OF the tax cuts would take effect as of last Jan. 1 and would show up in returns filed next spring. The revenue reductions would mount in future years. No overall estimates of future effects are available, although some Democrats argue the revenue loss will mount above two billion dollars.

The bill permits taxpayers to deduct from their income, on tax returns, the first $50 of dividends received. In addition, taxpayers could subtract 4 per cent of their remaining dividends, received after next Saturday, directly from the tax payment they otherwise would make.

Also, the bill would reduce income taxes on dividends by an estimated 204 million dollars in later years, 362 millions in later years. That is far less than Eisenhower originally asked and the House originally voted, but much more than approved so far by the Senate.

DIFFERENCES between original versions of the bill, as passed by the House and Senate, were settled in a House-Senate conference committee.

The biggest revenue loss in the measure would come from the more rapid deductions for depreciation—as estimated 323 million dollars the first year, much more over the next few years.

U.S. Executive Warns Peiping, Assures Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, denying that U. S. warplanes provoked the recent clash with Red Chinese craft, declared yesterday this country will defend its rights but won't be truculent.

His remarks at a news conference evidently that the two-fold purpose of cautioning the Peiping regime against further attacks and reassuring this country's allies, some of whom reportedly feel the United States has been too belligerent in the Far East.

THE PRESIDENT said the American planes which shot it out with Chinese Red aircraft, and downed two off Red-ruled Hainan, had a right to be where they were. He added that they will be withdrawn now that their mission of searching for survivors of a British airliner destroyed earlier by Red fighters is drawing to a close.

Two American aircraft carriers, the Philippine Sea and Hornet, have been searching the region after the Chinese fighters blasted the British airliner last Friday, killing 10 persons, including three Americans. Hope of finding any more survivors has ebbed, and the Navy said the search may end within 24 hours.

THE UNITED STATES charges that during this search, planes from Hainan attacked American planes from the Philippine Sea outside the territorial waters of Red China and two of the attacking craft were shot down.

The President rejected the Red Chinese charge that the American planes violated Chinese sovereignty by flying over Hainan. He said the American carrier task force had a right to be where it was, that it was there on legitimate business and would defend its rights.

TOLD THAT some dispatches from Paris expressed uneasiness over the American attitude, the President stressed that this country has no thought of being impulsive or truculent. Americans will not provoke any incident, he said, but will take necessary measures to defend themselves.

He expressed the view that the Peiping regime's attitude in the plane incidents was part of a plan to split the Western Allies. He noted that Peiping apologized to Britain for the attack on the British airliner but adopted a completely different attitude toward the United States.

Coffee Prices Drop Regionally

Roasters here said the decline was limited to the New York and New England area and would probably be in effect only through August.

Foreign Aid Bill Okayed By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 to finance the foreign aid program through June 30, 1955, was passed by the House yesterday on a 266-128 roll call vote.

The House approved $2,895,944,000 in new cash and $2,312,475,979 to be drawn from carryover funds appropriated in previous years. This is $812,213,554 less than President Eisenhower requested for the current 12 months.

Now the measure goes to the Senate, where it will join a bill authorizing the expenditure of $3,100,000,000 in new money for foreign aid during the current fiscal year.

SENATE DEBATE on the authorization measure, which does not deal with old, unbudgeted funds, began yesterday. After the authorization bill is passed, separate legislation is necessary to appropriate the old and new money.

Foreign aid is designed to strengthen allies of the United States against the threat of Communist aggression. Most of its goes for direct military assistance, aircraft, tanks and other weapons, but a portion is invested in building up the economies of friendly nations.

American Aid Slated For Egypt

CAIRO, EGYPT (AP) — American military and economic aid will soon begin flowing into Egypt in quantity as a result of Britain's agreement to evacuate the Suez Canal zone, informed sources said yesterday.

An unwritten U. S. commitment to help build up Egypt's economy and military establishment was a big factor in persuading Egypt to accept terms agreeable to London whereby the British will pull their 83,000 troops out of the zone, the informants said.

The United States is expected to put chief emphasis on economic aid to this country, since problems of irrigation and industrialization have a high priority with Egypt's governing Revolutionary Council.

Scranton Man Seriously Hurt When Autos Collide Head-On

A MAN WAS injured seriously in a head-on two-car crash on Route 611 three miles north of Stroudsburg at 3 p. m. yesterday.

He was Patrick Sheerin, 48, Scranton, who was driving south, according to Pfc. Don Henzey of Stroudsburg State police.

Henzey said the other driver was Walter W. Thompson, 40, of 50 Second St., Stroudsburg, a diner employee who was traveling north.

POLICE SAID Thompson had overtaken and was passing a tractor-trailer. His vehicle was in the center lane of the three-lane highway.

At the point of impact, the south-bound lane is a single-lane, no passing zone. The north-bound portion of the highway is two-lane, with passing permitted.

Police said Sheerin had pulled out of the south-bound lane and was evidently starting to pass another car. The collision followed.

THE SHEERIN car spun and wound up facing north at the west edge of the highway. Sheerin was thrown from the auto and landed about eight feet away in a field and down a bank.

Police said prosecution is likely, and investigation is continuing.

The General Hospital and Red Cross ambulances were used. Sheerin was the most seriously injured. However, details of his injuries were not obtainable at the hospital nearly nine hours after the accident. His condition was reported as "fair."

HIS WIFE, Jean, 43, daughter, Maya, 16, and son, James, 10, were all released after treatment for bruises. Thompson suffered a bruised knee but said he would see his family physician.

Waynesburg Looks For Rain Today

Waynesburg (AP) — Today is rain day at Waynesburg—and any loyal resident will give you odds that at least a few drops will fall sometime between 12:01 a. m. and midnight.

The little southwestern Pennsylvania community began keeping records of the rainfall on each July 29 back in 1877. Statistics—compiled by very prejudiced persons—show only seven July 29s have gone by dry in 77 years.

185,000 Tons Of Rock Drop From Face Of Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., (AP)—A big chunk of Prospect Point, a favorite spot of honeymooners, roared into the yawning Niagara River gorge yesterday.

A huge, pie-shaped bite of the American falls went with it.

THOUSANDS saw the estimated 185,000 tons of rock, dirt and rubble plunge, in a cloud of dust, into the 170-foot-deep chasm. No one was injured.

The whole point was roped off yesterday morning when a series of deep cracks opened just upstream from the cataract.

The rockfall from the lip of the gorge was 200 feet long, 50 feet wide and 150 feet deep, officials of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission estimated.

ABOUT 200 feet of the falls crestline collapsed to a point about 70 feet down the face. At that point, the falls are 160 feet high.

The rockfall, largest since a huge section of the American falls toppled into the gorge Jan. 17, 1931, gave the falls a new look—a deep crevice—along its flank.

The drop, which took nearly 10 minutes, started when crevices widened in the pavement and lawn at Prospect Point. Wire and iron fences along the edge of the escarpment gave way, the point seemed to settle, then broke into huge pieces and crashed into the gorge.

RIVERBED sections followed, with tremendous slabs breaking off the crest and tumbling to the mist-shrouded rocks below.

Further but smaller rockfalls were expected. Officials said one piece, with a tree growing on it, would have to be blasted off if it didn't fall.

Keith Hopkins, principal superintendent of the park, said erosion in a stream of shale apparently caused the rockfall. He said the waters tumble over a 60-foot thick cap rock supported by the shale.

WHEN THE SHALE is eaten away, he said, the cap rock crumbles and falls.

Hopkins said the engineers' estimate of the tonnage was based on the general measurement of the pie-shaped mass of rock and shale that gave way.

Prospect Point, part of the mainland, flanks the extreme left edge of the American falls as they are viewed head-on.

THE HORSESHOE falls, on the Canadian side, are at the extreme right.

Goat Island separates the two waterfalls.

South Korean Asks Naval, Air Support

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, in a fighting speech to Congress, proposed yesterday that the U. S. Navy and Air Force join in an attack by a two-million-man Asian army against Red China.

Silence was the main reaction to this proposal, voiced to a joint session of the Senate and House.

OTHERWISE, the lawmakers broke into applause six times for Rhee, indomitable still in his old age.

"You have to admire that old man tremendously," Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said in a typical comment later.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was asked particularly about Rhee's call for help from the American Navy and Air Force. Wiley limited himself to saying:

"LISTENED with great interest to a great man and a great patriot who made a great speech for his country."

Here is how Rhee swung into the crucial proposal:

"A million and a half young Koreans ask for nothing better than to fight for the cause of human freedom, their honor and their nation."

"THE GOVERNMENT of the Republic of China also has offered you 630,000 men of its armed forces and additional reserves."

"The Communist regime on the mainland of China is a monster with feet of clay. It is hated by the masses. Red China's army numbers 2,500,000, but its loyalty is not reliable."

"A blockade of the China coast by the American Navy would produce chaos in its communications."

"THE AMERICAN Air Force as well as the Navy would be needed to insure the success of the counterattack of the Red Chinese regime. But, let me repeat, no American foot soldier."

"The return of the Chinese mainland to the side of the free world would automatically produce a victorious end to the wars in Korea and Indochina, and would swing the balance of power so strongly against the Soviet Union that it would not dare to risk war with the United States."

PERHAPS, Rhee said, Russia would throw in its own ground and air forces. He reasoned on that score, however:

"That would be excellent for the free world, since it would justify the destruction of the Soviet centers of production by the American Air Force before the Soviet hydrogen bombs had been produced in quantity."

"I am aware that this is a hard doctrine. But the Communists have made this a hard world, a horrible world, in which to be soft is to become a slave."

RHEE STRESSED the theme that America is in deadly peril and time is running out.

His own capital of Seoul, he said, is within 10 minutes of Communist jet bombers and Communist trenches filled with troops lie within 40 miles.

"Yet death is scarcely closer to Seoul than Washington, for the destruction of the United States is the prime objective of the conspirators in the Kremlin."

"THE ESSENCE of the Soviet strategy for world conquest is to lull Americans into a sleep of death by talking peace until the Soviet Union possess enough hydrogen bombs and intercontinental bombers to pulverize the airfields and productive centers of the United States by a sneak attack."

Pike To Be Opened In Two Sections

ABOUT HALF of the 110-mile turnpike extension from Norris-town to north of Scranton (Moosic) will open before the road is finished.

Indications that this precedent will be followed was given yesterday by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. The commission announced it hopes to have the Delaware extension finished by Aug. 15 instead of Aug. 1 as originally announced.

Commission officials said the western half of the extension would be opened first. The same procedure, they indicated, would be followed on the northeastern extension.

DAVID E. WATSON, turnpike commissioner said, "We are trying to accelerate construction of the section between Plymouth Meeting and Allentown."

Opening of some portions of the Delaware extension—running to the Delaware border—have been complicated by relocation of Route 309 near Philadelphia.

Because of the relocation the Route 309 interchange north of Philadelphia will not be opened at the same time as interchanges for Routes 422 and 611.

MEANWHILE, the commission received an unofficial low bid of $2,388,986 from the Badgett Mining and Stripping Co., Madisonville, Ky., for construction of another 4.11 miles of the northeastern extension in Kidder Twp., Carbon County.

Bids for still another section will be opened next Wednesday. This will bring 21.58 miles of the extension either under contract or up for bids.

Woman Hurt Near Milford

MILFORD—A Trenton woman was injured in an accident which occurred on Route 6 west of here Tuesday night, Milford State police reported.

Mary La Comb, 42, was traveling east with her husband, Archie La Comb. As they approached a construction area, La Comb slowed. He was hit in the rear by Ronald Sarfert, 19, of Philadelphia, who was following him, police explained.

La Comb's car overturned; Sarfert's went off the road into a woods. Neither driver was injured. Mary La Comb was taken by ambulance to St. Francis Hospital. She had apparently hit her head on the dash, police said.

La Comb car damages were estimated $200 to right rear and front wheel and bumper of the car. The left side and front of Sarfert's car were damaged an estimated $500.

Walter Votes For Passage Of Two Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) voted with the majority on two measures that passed the House yesterday.

One was a bill appropriating $5,208,419,979 to finance the foreign aid program for the present fiscal year. The House passed and sent the bill to the Senate 394-128. All 11 Democrats and 15 of the 19 Republicans of the Pennsylvania delegation to Congress voted for the measure.

REP. WALTER also voted with the majority as the administration's general tax revision bill cleared the House, 315 to 77. He was joined by four other Pennsylvania Democrats and 18 Republicans in support of the bill.

On an earlier motion to recommend the tax measure, all 19 Pennsylvania Republicans and Rep. Walter voted against the motion.

Citizen Soldiers

Monroe County's "citizen soldiers"—those men who live next door to many of us during peacetime and fight for us all over the world during war times—will be off to Indian-land Gap Military Reservation near Harrisburg August 14 for two weeks of hard training.

Makeup of Company G, 109th Infantry is a hard core of battlewise men who've had plenty of training and the raw experience of either World War II or the Korean war. Some are young men who have not had such experience, but are getting the full benefit of the experience of their battle-trained buddies.

The summer training periods at Indian-land Gap draw up all units of the National Guard to division strength for training under conditions which as closely as possible represent battle conditions.

It's hard work. It's work when these men report to regular weekly drills, sharpen up on new weapons and new battle procedures developed in wars as recent as Korea.

We forget all too easily service these men have rendered from the Mexican Border incidents of the early 1900's right down through two world-wide conflicts and then Korea.

Few of us even consider the time they devote as "citizen soldiers" in local training and during summer encampment. Sure they get paid for it. They should be paid.

But there's something more that is needed here. Full community cooperation in time of peace is not too much for all of us to give men who are always ready and willing to serve us—as they have proven many times—in any national emergency.

Homes For The Aged

The state of Massachusetts has set an example for the other 47 in encouraging construction of housing especially designed for elderly people. It has offered to assist community housing authorities technically and financially to fill this important need.

The number of elderly people in our population is growing at a remarkable rate, thanks to the many recent medical discoveries which prolong life. Some authorities think that in 15 years or so we will have twice as many people over 65 as we have now.

Most of these people will be retired, and will have neither the need for the traditional family-sized home nor the money to rent it. Many, of course, will be living alone and will not wish to move in with relatives or go to an "old folks home," which often are the only alternatives.

The Massachusetts planners foresee small but comfortable living units, in or near existing residential areas, that will be easy to maintain and designed carefully to avoid such household hazards as steep stairways.

Private enterprise must be depended on to provide most of our housing, of course, and this modest Massachusetts program—designed for people of low income—is no more than a pilot project. But it will be worth watching, because we must start thinking now about how to provide for the special needs of our growing millions of aged citizens.

George Sokolsky Says...

Silver City, N. M. Uses July Fourth To Reunite After Communistic Disruption

When we think of radical movements in this country, the big cities, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and such places come to mind.

It has seldom been that way. The Populist Movement, perhaps the most successful of radical efforts, came out of the Midwest, centering in Kansas; the "Appeal to Reason," the most potent of radical newspapers, was published in Girard, Kansas; the I. W. W., perhaps better remembered as the Wobblies, an anarcho-syndicated movement, witnessed its greatest growth in the lumber camps of Oregon and Washington; Eugene V. Debs was born in Terre Haute, Indiana, and Earl Browder in Wichita, Kansas.

So now we turn to Silver City, Grant County, New Mexico where the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers cuts a wide swath. This is a Communist union, expelled from the C. I. O. for being just that. In this mining center, the unskilled workers are completely dominated by this union.

It was in the environs of Silver City that the motion picture, "Salt of the Earth," was filmed, produced and directed by some who were affiliated with the Hollywood Ten; they could not work in Hollywood because they were known in Silver City which annoyed the local Chamber of Commerce no end.

It so happens that more than 75 percent of the unskilled labor in the Silver City mining industry are of Mexican descent. The Communists in the union and among the motion picture folks devoted themselves unceasingly to the jolly business of stirring up racial discontent. A quiet town suddenly found itself embroiled in much unpleasantness.

This year, the Chamber of Commerce, whose manager, Harold Welsh, used to be the editor of the "Silver City Enterprise," advocated that the Fourth of July would be an excellent time for a city wide reaffirmation of their belief in democracy. A committee was appointed which included interesting personalities, such as Greg Mesa, local president of the League of United Latin American Citizens, and Morris Rudnick, local theater manager who refused to let the "Salt of the Earth" producers use his theater.

The event united the town. Among the speakers were Roy Brewer, the Hollywood labor leader and President of the Motion Picture Alliance; Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of Santa Fe; and Pedro Gonzalez-Gonzalez, representing the Screen Actors Guild. Forty-three organizations joined in the parade, which had eight marshals, seven of whom were of Mexican nationality.

Roy Brewer, who is now running for the Presidency of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage employees, said:

"Hollywood and Silver City have something in common today because we have both been victimized by the American Communist Party. And while this experience has been an unpleasant one, I am sure that both of these communities will be better able to face the problems of the future by reason of the experiences through which we have passed. For there is nothing that the world today needs so much in this gigantic struggle for the very survival of our civilization as we need to understand the real nature of the Communist menace with which we are faced and those of us who have faced it in a realistic fashion, such as our two communities have, are going to have an advantage over the others in the struggles to come.

It is clearly evident that there are many good people who do not realize that American Communism can be as deadly as Asiatic or European Communism.

Ann Doran, of the Screen Actors Guild, made a little speech on this sound note:

"... This kind of gathering refutes the Communist line better than anything else. Their feeling is to divide, to make you look at your neighbor with suspicion and hate, but when we gather, just nice, normal average people, that work, that live, that have fried eggs for breakfast; when we gather like this, we are no longer—although we may be very proud of our ancestry—we are no longer Irish or Jewish, or French or Mexican. We're just plain old Apple Pie Americans."

So a good time was had by all at what seems to me to be the best kind of Fourth of July celebration. I give this account rather belatedly in the hope that next year, other communities might try to make the Fourth fit the local scene as perfectly as this one did.

lina, to Miss Universe is quite a trip and since it was something of a photo finish, with a gal from Brazil with cuties from other nations close-up, this can result in another headache for the United Nations Security Council.

We hear the Russians insist there is a Miss Ukraine who has better hips and that the U.S.S.R. can produce a girl who, thanks to the teachings of Lenin, surpasses all others in a bathing suit. Chou En Lai has not been heard from but that Red China will send Greenwood's Miss Universe unless America sends Red China is unlikely. Incidentally, it must be tough when the winner of a Miss America or Miss Universe title settles down years later and learns that she is regarded in the neighborhood as "the woman next door."

Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows went to Waterford, Conn., for their marriage license and we'll bet nobody on Broadway knows that Waterford is a picturesque country town hard by the Niantic River and Long Island Sound. We always call the place Niantic and have fished there for striped bass ever since we were knee-high to a grasshopper. In spirit it is about as far north from Broadway and Hollywood as you can get.

The Indo-China settlement looks like Munich in technicolor.

A return match between Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles seems certain, the idea probably being that there is still a big public for a good farce comedy.

Advertising Tells People Civilization's Advantage

Have you ever realized the magic of advertising?

Every day in the week you read your newspaper with its many news items and its many ads. You take them all for granted because they have been with you so long and come so regularly into your home and at such a low price.

But just think for a moment what advertising has meant to you, what a magic carpet it has been.

I want to say right here that I am not getting a penny from any advertiser or advertising department for this eulogy to a little-appreciated art.

It came to me while I was in the hospital reading my Sunday paper.

Frankly, the news and feature stories, good though they were, left me somewhat cold. Perhaps it was because I have read about Russia and Vietnam and Senator McCarthy and China so much and for so long.

Even my comics seemed to bore me just a little bit, much as I like my comics.

But, when I was all through with the editorial matter, I turned to the advertising pages—and I found myself transported into a wonderful land of unlimited possibilities.

It was as if all the bazaars of India and the Far East had opened their doors to me. It was as if suddenly I had become a millionaire and had my choice of all the fine jewelry, the fine silks and satins of the Far East.

The doctor had forbidden me to smoke for the time being, but here in the ads I imagined myself indulging in $10 meerschaum pipes and the finest of cigarettes, guaranteeing not to irritate my throat or to do any of the things my medic said they might do to me.

On another page I was taken to all parts of the world in the fastest-yet airlines or on luxurious ships with swimming pools and beautiful women in abbreviated bathing suits abroad.

Restricted to a rather rigid diet, I ate magnificent meals of Lucullan content and portification in the finest restaurants and cooked by the most expert chefs.

It mattered not that just then the nurse brought me my 1,200-calories-a-day salt-free and tasteless dinner. In my mind, and through the art of advertising, I was partaking of pheasant, mushrooms, strawberries with thick cream, and cups and cups of coffee. And, imagine, the whole thing didn't cost me a penny. The ad was wise enough not to mention any price.

And so it went. Every page was a new delight. Had I gone to Bagdad or to the Champs Elysees or the Strand in London, I could not have had a more wonderful time.

There was even an announcement of a book soon to be published, called "Pygmies and Dream Giants." The author, Kilton Stewart, made several explorations into the wild parts of the Philippines to determine what, if any, was the basic difference that kept primitive people primitive while other people advanced.

I think I can tell Mr. Stewart without going to the Philippines or other countries where they live primitives.

He can just bet his sweet life that in a primitive country there will be no advertising to tell the aborigines about the advantages of civilization or about today's bargains.

U. S. Will Increase Aid To South Korea Government

Individual Behavior; Wild, Human

—by H. G. Heller

Washington — The U. S. will increase both military and economic aid to South Korea.

President Syngman Rhee has been given firm assurance of that.

Similar expanded aid will go to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

In both instances the additional funds will come from those previously used to help the French in Indo-China. The Senate Appropriations Committee has earmarked $712,000,000 in the new foreign aid budget for South-east Asia.

Current American expenditures for various purposes in South Korea total upwards of $800,000,000 annually. On Formosa, they amount to approximately $400,000,000. Prior to June, outlays in Indo-China were at the rate of $1,200,000,000 a year.

The total will be boosted to more than $1,000,000,000 and Formosa's over $500,000,000.

Senate leaders have received inside word of this from Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen. He disclosed these unannounced measures during a private discussion of the Indo-China trade and its effect on Administration policies in the Far East.

Stassen described the Indo-China cease-fire as an "uneasy armistice" that is certain to result in intensified Red pressure against South Korea and Formosa.

"There is every sign on the horizon," he said, "that South-east Asia will be an arena of greatest activity by both the free world and the Communists in the immediate future. No one can say how long this truce will last, but the Communists are already engaged in aggressive infiltration tactics all the way from Japan's labor unions to the rubber plantations in Indonesia and the rice fields of Burma. That is the far-flung battleground and the issue of peace or war will be decided there."

"What are we doing about it?" asked Senator Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

"One of the first things we are doing is to increase military aid to South Korea and Formosa," replied Stassen. "We feel the number of troops in both countries should be increased without delay. That will also require additional economic aid to both countries."

Achilles' heel — Stassen indicated the Administration is particularly concerned about safeguarding Formosa. "The once loudly-touted policy of 'unleashing Chiang Kai-shek' has been shelved. Instead, the U. S. is taking forceful steps to insure that the strategic Nationalist stronghold does not fall into Red hands."

Stassen was sharply grilled on this, Senator Henry Dworshak (R., Idaho) expressed blunt doubts regarding the military value of the Nationalists.

"The population of China is in excess of 400,000,000," said Dworshak. "On Formosa, there are not more than 10,000,000 Chinese. Aren't we building up false hopes that they can withstand the Communist trend of the 400,000,000 people on the Chinese mainland?"

"I don't think so," replied Stassen. "We believe the Nationalists would fight and are an important asset to the free world. As Asian armies go, those of Korea and Formosa are the two largest on our side out there."

"Theoretically, what you say is true," said Dworshak, "but what did Formosa do while our men were fighting and dying in Korea and the French were doing the same in Indo-China?"

"The Nationalists offered to fight," retorted Stassen, "but we turned them down for diplomatic reasons."

Dworshak stressed that he favors holding Formosa. But he questioned the value of continuing to spend huge sums on the Nationalists.

"As I understand it," he declared, "we have spent more than a billion dollars on some 10,000-000 Nationalists. Maybe they are loyal to us. But my point is, what have they done so far to help us? What have they done to resist Communist aggression? We have spent a great deal of money on them, but I haven't seen any returns on that investment."

Stassen argued hotly that the Nationalists have prevented the Communists from seizing Formosa.

"There are 2,610,000 males between the ages of 15 to 43 on Formosa," said Stassen, "and of this number 1,580,000 are physically fit and capable of military service. That is a very large manpower pool that we must keep on our side. Frankly, this is one of those situations where it is important that we not be too certain in either direction. In other words, it would be wrong for us to conclude that the Nationalists can take over the mainland in two or three years. On the other hand, it would be equally wrong to think that they are not a significant asset because we are not certain about that at present."

Senator Dirksen pointed out "Every great operation requires a beachhead."

"That is right," said Stassen. "And here is a natural beachhead if anything is ever to happen out there."

Water Supply Continues To Dwindle Throughout County

Restrictions Tightened In Some Sections

MONROE COUNTY'S dwindling water supply gave touchy testimony to the seriousness of the prolonged dry season yesterday.

Restrictions against the outside use of water for sprinkling lawns and gardens remained the same. In some areas they were getting tougher.

Monroe County Water Supply Co., serving Stroudsburg borough, pleaded with residents not to use garden hoses "at all." Previously the company had asked that subscribers use hoses only about an hour each day if absolutely necessary.

MOST PEOPLE who get their water from Monroe Supply have been "cooperating very well," an official said. Biggest reason for the new plea was the fact that this area has had little measurable rainfall during the past two months.

Largest rainfall this month was the one-quarter-inch fall Sunday in Stroudsburg. Most other areas in the county failed to get rain from that brief storm, however.

IN EAST STROUDSBURG — where water is provided by a municipal authority — cooperation is reported "good." An official said restrictions on use of water for outside purposes would remain the same. For the past two months East Stroudsburg residents have been restricted from using their garden hoses to water lawns, wash cars or sprinkle gardens.

Sterling Cramer, water company official there, said the situation stays the same in East Stroudsburg borough: a "state of emergency still exists."

MOUNT POCONO'S Fairview Water Co. has also enforced restrictions against outside use of water from its reservoir. No complaints from home owners have been received because of "lack of water," a Fairview official said. Similar restrictions have been imposed by officials of Hamilton Water Co. in Saylorsburg where 250 subscribers have been asked to refrain from using hoses for outside purposes.

A Hamilton company official said supplies there were "enough to carry us through providing we have the complete cooperation of all those who use the service."

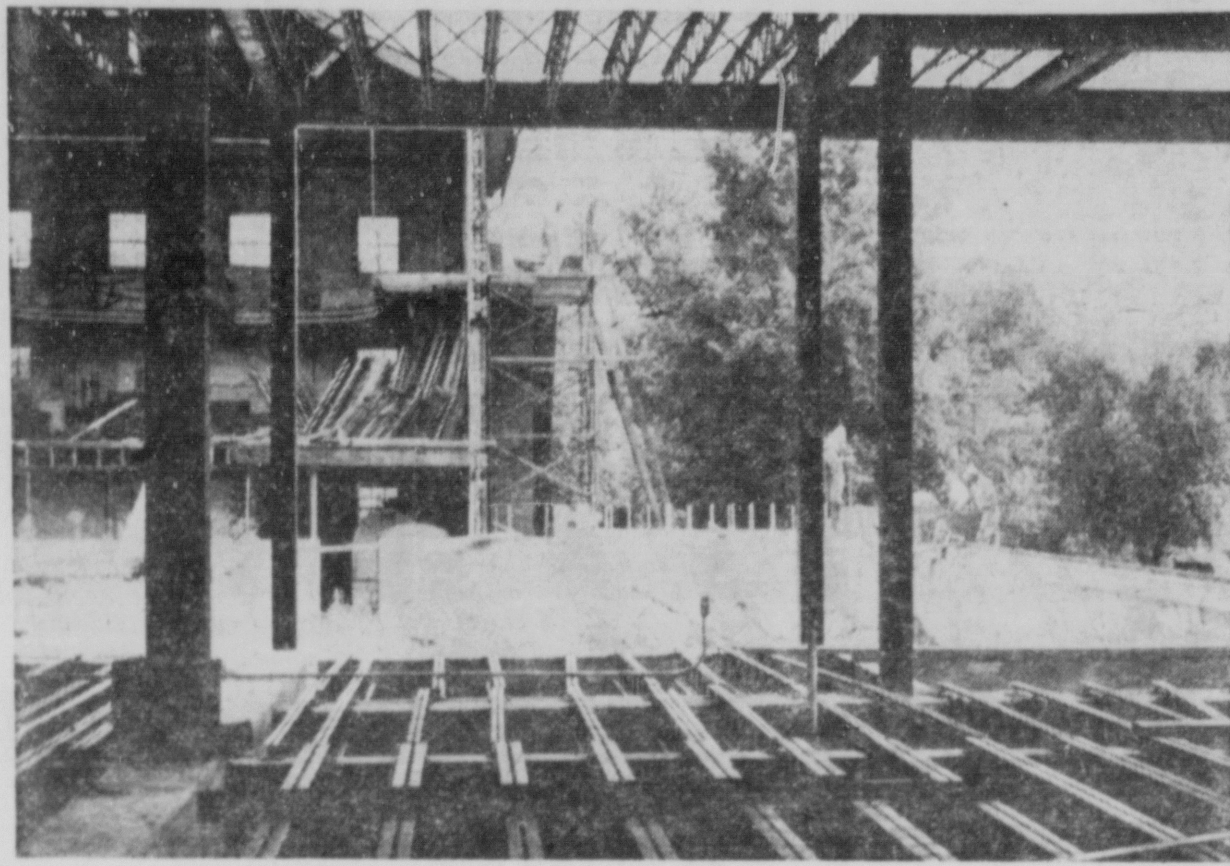

"WE HAVEN'T HAD any real rain since before the end of May," the official said.

Elsewhere in Monroe County the story was the same: wells were drying, getting drier by the day; some springs which provide water for private homes were in danger of dribbling out.

Lack of water was having an effect on crops as well as water supplies for home use.

IN STROUDSBURG, soil conservationist Norman Dietrick, after a survey of effects of the dry condition on farmlands, said "things don't look good at all."

One of the principal reasons for the seriousness of the situation, Dietrick indicated, could be traced back to the comparatively dry Winter and Spring. Lack of moisture during those periods had put Monroe County at a disadvantage before Summer began, Dietrick said. Such moisture — now retained on

State Approves Jointure Of Bangor, Roseto Schools

BANGOR—Official approval of a Bangor-Roseto jointure has been confirmed by Harrisburg officials.

A letter, mailed last week to the Northampton County School Board, notified local board members of the approval. A copy of the letter was received in Bangor by school board secretary Reimer Speer.

Congratulation came from Ralph Swan, deputy superintendent of education in the Department of Public Instruction.

THE BANGOR-Roseto jointure approved by the State includes all grades from kindergarten through grade 12. The school is to be known as the "Bangor Area Joint School System."

The approved two-district jointure is actually the outgrowth of a seven-year running struggle to set up some sort of combined school system for Slate Belt schools.

This year numerous meetings were held jointly by members of five or more Slate Belt school districts. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss every possible angle of proposed Slate Belt jointures.

INVOLVED in the discussions were boards from Bangor, Roseto, Washington Township, Upper and Lower Mount Bethel, East Bangor and Portland.

As the discussions went on the boards split into two camps: those who favored jointure of all seven districts and those who favored jointure of all or some of the districts minus Bangor. Three months ago the attempts to set up an all-inclusive jointure at present collapsed. Bangor and Roseto filed for recognition of their own two-district jointure; other boards declared their intentions of continuing the jointure study as it applied to their own districts.

A JOINTURE of Lower Mount Bethel with East Bangor, Portland and Upper Mount Bethel appeared doomed, at least for the present, with a decision by Lower Mount Bethel board that it was unwilling "at this time" to enter any jointure because of building costs.

Dietrick, who has just returned from a trip through western Pennsylvania and Canada, says it is "drier here than in most other areas," based on his own personal observation.

96-Degree Reading Is Taken Here

TEMPERATURES crept up to 96 degrees yesterday in Stroudsburg. It was one degree hotter than the previous day.

Weather observer Pierre Lake said the 8 a. m. reading was 65. It was 85 degrees at 7 p. m. in the borough.

As usual it was about 10 degrees cooler in Mount Pocono and other higher Monroe County regions.

OFFICIAL readings at High Point, Mount Pocono showed a high of 85.4 degrees for the day, observer Harry Greene reported. It was 61 degrees at 5 a. m. there.

An eight-mile-per-hour wind blowing west-northwest, helped make the day more comfortable, Greene said. Relative humidity showed a low of 34 per cent for the day, Greene reported.

Forest District Reports No Bad Fires During Day

DESPITE critical drought conditions throughout the forest district, there wasn't a serious fire yesterday, said forester Robert Pierce, Stroudsburg.

Only activity to be seen was on a high area on Effort Mountain where four or five hundred acres of unprotected huckleberry land has been smoking and smoldering for days.

The area is being kept under watch to prevent the fire from erupting and moving into valuable or protected land. No homes are endangered by the semi-underground fire, Pierce said.

Youth Keeps Fire From Invalid's Home

A BOY KEPT a grass fire from reaching an invalid's home near Marshalls Creek yesterday.

The blaze was noted about 4:30 p. m. by Mrs. Burt Sylvester, Meadow Lake Club resident, who had her nurse telephone a neighbor's house for help.

From the neighboring house came Robin Gladeck, about 16, on the run. Gladeck seized a fire extinguisher from the Sylvester home and held the blaze about three feet from the house.

Meanwhile Sylvester and a friend had arrived and hooked up a garden hose. They kept

Stroud Twp. Grass Fire Extinguished

A GRASS FIRE spread over one acre of land near the Hickory Valley Farms, Stroudsburg RD2, at 4:15 p.m. yesterday.

Stroud Township Volunteer Fire Company answered the alarm; put the blaze out quickly. Firemen said the blaze started at a dump used by the farm—a meat processing company—when paper dumped there apparently caught on fire.

No damage was done, according to Clyde White, Stroud company spokesman.

Flames from reaching the house at other points, pending arrival of Marshalls Creek Fire Co. Firemen put out the fire before much damage was done.

Growing Need For More Schools Noted In Report

PENNSYLVANIA'S most critical housing shortage is occurring in the public schools.

In Monroe County, where school officials have pointed again and again to the drastic need for more space to educate today's children, the shortage is growing more serious each year.

Yesterday the seriousness of the statewide shortage received attention from a special committee on public school facilities.

A REPORT by the committee was released last night in Harrisburg. Among the findings:

As fast as new school buildings go up, the faster the need for them grows.

By 1960 more than a billion dollars will have to be spent on school construction to meet enrollment increases.

NEARLY 115,000 school children still use outdoor toilet facilities at 2,733 buildings in the Commonwealth.

MONROE COUNTY'S situation is on a par with most other Pennsylvania areas. Overcrowding is the rule—not the exception.

In this area there are few schools which can boast of completely adequate room. Many are cramping twice as many children into their available building space as the plants were originally constructed to hold.

IN POLK TOWNSHIP Consolidated School at Kresgeville, high school classes are being held in basement rooms. Band rehearsals are also held there, surrounded by the masked pipes of the heating system.

In Chestnut Hill, one room was partitioned last year to take care of two grades. Before it had been a homeroom. As a result the pupil load for that one room was nearly doubled.

Hamilton Township opened its new elementary school last fall. The school was not large enough for the enrollment. Population jumps put school directors on the defensive again.

IN THIS ONE respect, Monroe County seems far ahead of some other regions in the State. The one-room school has ceased to be a prominent problem.

With the opening of the new Hamilton school near Sciota in September last year, the biggest batch of Monroe County one-roomers disappeared. Hamilton had operated eight one-room schoolhouses. When the new building opened, the one-roomers were closed.

Only one one-room school remains in operation in Monroe. This is located in Tunkhannock Township, where consolidation is an acute problem. Unless and until Tunkhannock grade school pupils can be sent to an area school encompassing that region, the most sparsely populated region in Monroe County will still be forced to operate a one-room school.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS of the report termed the most comprehensive ever prepared by State officials—were these:

Many of the 7,461 school buildings now being used in the State need immediate modernization or should be replaced. Structures 30,

40, 50 or 60 years old are "commonplace."

Many—and probably most—of the old buildings are not fireproof. School sites are generally small and inadequate. More than half of all school buildings housing 30 per cent of all pupils occupy less than an acre of land.

HALF-DAY sessions, although not a Statewide problem, have reached "serious proportions" in areas of rapid growth.

The average cost per pupil for school construction has been $1,652 in post-war years. The average schoolbuilding costs about $696,000 the report says.

Steckbeck Credits Indians With Spurring Advance Of Athletics In United States

JOHN STECKBECK, head track coach and assistant football coach at Dickinson College, Carlisle, credited the American Indians for having had much to do with the advance in athletics in America at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting yesterday afternoon.

Steckbeck, author of the "Fabled Indian," a publication that has been well received, was presented by Fran Shinn, of Vacation Valley.

STECKBECK TRACED the history of the American Indians 300 years back to the time Gen. Brook led his cavalry troops to chase the Apaches. The axiom then was "a dead Indian was best."

However, Richard H. Pratt, another cavalryman, set in motion the movement to civilize and educate the Indians when he led a group of them to Fort Richard Henry at St. Augustine. This was the stepping stone to the start of Carlisle Indian Industrial School after the arrival of the first group Oct. 6, 1879, Steckbeck said.

One of the needs was to keep the Indians busy and the use of a large ball was used and led to football, he said.

VANCE MCCORMACK was one of the first coaches and did a fine job, it was pointed out. However, it was Glen S. (Pop) Warner who put the Indians on the map, the speaker declared.

Warner was one of the most prominent coaches in the country and led his teams to victories throughout the country playing the very strongest teams. Warner was crafty, too, it was shown.

Steckbeck named many of the great players turned out at Carlisle. Isaac Semeca, he declared was the first Indian named to an All America standard by Walter Camp.

THE SPEAKER named many teams defeated by the Carlisle Indians, who traveled as much as 25,000 miles in a season, losing very few games. They were handicapped, however, if they had to play on a wet field. On a dry layout, it was different. The Carlisle school closed permanently in 1917.

The fierceness of the Indian game was outstanding, said the speaker. People turned out in hordes, not so much to see the game, but to see the Indians. High tribute was paid Jim Thorpe, one of the greatest athletes, for whom the Mauch Chunk Clunkers have been named.

The American Indian was pictured as stupid, Steckbeck declared, yet out of obscurity and bold savagery to see the bright light, he deserved credit for making sports what they are in the world today, Steckbeck declared.

THE CLUB received an invitation to visit the Scranton Club next Wednesday noon when Kiwanians of the Upper Division of New York will make the trip by plane for the meeting.

Vice President D. A. Hansen urged support of the members for the visit of the bloodmobile Aug. 19.

Secretary A. F. Everitt was honored for his birthday and announcement was made the directors would meet next Monday at 5 p.m. The underprivileged child committee is seeking employment for a 19-year-old youth and any employer interested can contact A. W. Williams.

WILLIAM L. OWENS, of Hollywood, Fla., president of the local club in 1942, was given a hearty welcome at the meeting. Dr. D. B. Corson and Julius P. Stapf were in charge of the song period.

President C. W. Dupee welcomed these visiting Kiwanians:

Clair Hoover, Williamsport; Hal Bates, Elizabeth, N. J.; Charles P. Ranere, Hammonton, N. J.; Samuel D. Brown, Pottstown, and Earl S. Davies, Bethlehem; also Richard Shepard, Philadelphia, and D. E. Mellinger, Baltimore, Md.

Dr. Jaks, psychologist, lecturer and entertainer, will make a return appearance before the Stroudsburg Club Wednesday noon, Aug. 11. The ladies are specially invited to attend this meeting.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Seems as if the youngsters are making more news than their elders this hot weather. Girl Scouts are camping on the Appalachian Trail, our Girl Guide is getting ready to leave for Norway, our 4-H Clubs are baking cakes and finishing up their skirts.

About all we old fogies seem to be doing is complaining about the heat, the humidity, and the drought. It doesn't make us feel any better, but at least it makes a good excuse for not doing what we know we ought.

If, instead of complaining about it, we'd get in our bathing suits and spend half an hour in either of the playground pools, where the water is always cold enough to make goose pimples, we'd be all comfortable and ready to catch up on our work.

But that's too much trouble — and besides we'd get our hair wet. Well, phooey on us. We deserve what we get. Which right now seems to be to have daughters starting to talk about school clothes. The very thought of jerseys and wool is enough to give you prickly heat.

Which reminds me that now's about the time we ought to get out the winter wear and see how effective that moth protection is. Wonderful weather for sitting up in the attic under the baking roof and smelling moth spray, don't you think?

You don't? Well, neither do I. Live and let live, that will be our motto until that almost despaired-of rainy day.

Clubwomen To Study Getting Dollar's Worth

By Jane Eads

Washington — Giving the consumer dollar more sense is a theme Mrs. A. N. Satterlee of Minneapolis, Minn., will stress in outlining a sample program for American clubwomen this year.

Mrs. Satterlee, head of the Consumers Interest Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation during the war, in her own home town, and now head of its Consumers Interests, a unique volunteer educational agency, is using her experience as a basis for her program planning as newly named chairman of consumers in the General Federation of Women's Clubs' Department of the Home.

"We want to work out a practical program that our millions of club women can follow in their own ways in their own communities that will help them to buy, use and take care of the things they need in their homes," Mrs. Satterlee explained to the recent headquarters here.

"Consumer education as a remedy for ignorance in buying, if taken in reasonable doses and well digested, will affect a cure," Mrs. Satterlee, a plumpish, bright-eyed Minneapolis contractor's wife and grandmother of five, believes.

Mrs. Satterlee says interest in this subject can be gauged by the fact that her volunteer organization in Minneapolis in the last few years has received an average of 18,000 to 20,000 consumer inquiries a year, and last year one of these came from the National Assn. of Consumers of South Africa.

Her committee proposes to get out an initial bulletin of the subject in general, followed by suggestions on panel discussions, how to get special speakers and special bulletins from county, state and federal agencies and so on.

Mrs. Satterlee, who was chairman of the Federation's national convention in Minneapolis in 1952 and is a member of the Defense Advisory Committee of Women in the Armed Services, says she is urging women to pass on the things they learn at club meetings to their husbands.

"They shouldn't forget, that's Papa is a consumer too," she said.

Scouts To Camp On Monroe's Appalachian Trail; Cook-Out Tips From Scout's Manual

Monroe County's section of the Appalachian Trail will have its share in this summer's Appalachian Encampment of the Girl Scouts of the USA. Sixteen girls from the Scranton Area are due to arrive at Fox Gap, on Route 90, to begin the three-day hike, part of the national encampment with girls camping along the Appalachian Trail from upper Pennsylvania down through Virginia.

Local Senior Scouts plan to be on hand to greet them and to have water ready at their camp site. No local Scouts are going on the Appalachian Trail during the formal encampment, August 2 through August 4, but they plan to make a three-day practice hike later in the summer in preparation for next year.

The Appalachian Encampment received wide attention through an AP article, released today, by Cecil Brownstone, Associated Press Food Editor, who recommends Girl Scout tips for families planning to cook out-doors for vacations.

The Scout's manual "Cooking Outdoors," she says, is "full of handy hints. Along with over 50 pages of recipes for one-pot meals, 'stick' cooking and other kinds of outdoor dishes, the manual has directions for building fires, kinds of fuel to use, methods of food care and cook-out organization. In addition to solid information, there are intriguing suggestions. This one, for instance, giving a substitute for soda in bread-making, makes any adventurous family want to hit the trail:

"Instead of soda, use an equal amount of the white of wood ashes and mix it dry with flour. It makes bread rise the same as soda, and it isn't possible to tell the difference. The best ashes are those of hickory, dogwood, sugar maple, and corn cobs; but the ashes of beech, ash, buckeye, balsam poplar, and yellow poplar are also good."

Nothing daunts the camping scouts—whether they are braising ham in a beanhole, having a fish bake or an imu. No utensils are needed for the imu. According to the scouts, it's a mode of cooking that was used in ancient days by Mediterranean countries: Mesopotamia, Afghanistan, Siberia and Japan. When they follow this early cooking technique, the scouts heat rocks in a pit in the ground, place food (wrapped in dampened grape, hickory or other nut leaves) next to the hot rocks, and cover the pit with earth to seal in the heat.

No beater handy for those flapjacks? Don't give it a second thought. Cut a three-forked branch or twig from a tree and use it as a beater by twirling or rolling it in the flapjack batter between the palms of your hands. Tin cans come in for how-to-do treatment, too. In preparation for cook-outs, scouts at troop meetings learn to make kettles,

Four Birthdays Celebrated At Appenzell Picnic

Four birthdays were celebrated at a picnic held on Sunday at the Appenzell picnic grove. Honored were Milton Singer, Ervin Frailley, Mrs. Ida Hilliard and Mrs. Edith Frailley.

Birthday cakes, presents climaxed the picnic lunch. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frailley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Koerner and children, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Frailley and grandson, Mrs. Ida Hilliard, Roland Smith, Mrs. Clara Heller, Mrs. Nellie Larzelere, Mrs. Jean Guelasha and son of New Jersey, Mrs. Eleanor Hardenstine, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Frailley, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Singer.

stoves, corn poppers, skillets, toasters and broilers out of various sizes of tin cans. Tin shears and a sturdy scout knife help—skill and ingenuity do the rest.

Berry picking is half the fun of camping, and of course Girl Scouts sometimes put their berries in muffins. Because non-fat dry milk is easy to pack and carry, and stays fresh, the scouts include it in their pack and use it for drinking and cooking in re-liquified or powdered form. Here is their Blueberry Muffin recipe, calling for powdered non-fat milk. If you want to bake these good muffins indoors as we did, halve the recipe and fill 12 muffin cups (about 2 3/4 inches measured across the top or 1/4 cup size) about two-thirds full; bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 25 minutes. And remember that the batter should be slightly lumpy, and not mixed until smooth or you will have peaks and tunnels. The non-fat dry milk gives the muffins a delightful golden-brown crust.

Ingredients: 1/4 cup shortening, 2/3 cup sugar, 2 eggs (well beaten), 4 cups flour, 3/4 cup non-fat dry milk powder, 3 tablespoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups water, 2 cups fresh blueberries.

Method: Cream shortening and sugar; add well beaten eggs. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add them alternately with water to creamed mixture. Add berries, slightly floured. Bake 20 to 25 minutes.

Miss Fullerton Is Feted At Bridal Shower

Miss Beverly Fullerton, who is to become the bride of Walter Hartman, of the U. S. Army, on August 7, was feted at a bridal shower held on Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Foster Gould, Elm St., East Stroudsburg. Serving as hostess with Mrs. Gould was her sister, Mrs. William Murphy.

They were assisted by Nancy Applegate and Peg Dymond. A canopy of streamers and wedding bells was erected over the chair reserved for the guest of honor.

Guests included Joyce Leap, Linda Strunk, Josephine Anthony, Donna Holland, Peg Hartman, Mrs. Grace Quigley, Mrs. Mary Woolbert, Mrs. Mamie Lee, Mrs. Ethel Stauffer, mother of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Lena Hartman, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Successful Night

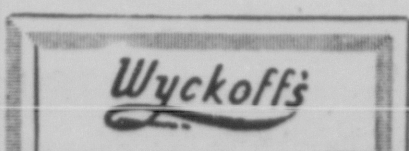

Bartonville—Bartonville Night at the Pocono Township Volunteer Firemen's Carnival was reported a success. The baked goods and "white elephant" stands staffed by Mrs. Haviland Heiler, Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. Aliegar and Emma Dunbar were sold out by 9:30 p.m.

Mary Tyreman of our shoe department, recalling the recent discussion of why birds do not bathe in certain bird baths, calls to my attention the Spade and Trowel column on page 96 of Living magazine, August issue. A reader complains that the birds pass her bird bath by, and she cannot understand why—"It is certainly big enough," she writes, "the water is six inches deep." According to the columnist, this is far too deep. Songbirds do not enter water if they cannot stand firmly on the bottom, and a pool should slope down gradually from a dry edge to a depth of three or four inches, no more. Apparently birds are not equipped with water wings—just "wings of song for soaring" . . .

Who was it said that only women gossip? Right now if I had a tape recorder, the result would be extremely salable to the newspaper. And what I'm hearing isn't coming from INSIDE the building or in a feminine voice . . . I notice that the graceful ebony lions on teakwood stands have been marked way, way down on our clearance table. Lovely they'd be on a mantle, or in a man's study . . .

Speaking of studies, dens, libraries, and such, I'm reminded of a book I just received through Sears' People's Book Club. "The Gentle House," it is called, and it's the story of a little Latvian boy, a displaced person, who finds refuge in this country, with an elderly school teacher. What a violent boy he is! But the writer is wise enough to see behind his tantrums and pent-up fury, and find a way to the boy's heart. It's a story I'll tell you more about later over the air—a story that will give parents a better understanding of their own boys and girls. Strange how much one can learn from seeing how other people cope with their problems! . . . Also, Mrs. H., if you continue reading this column, you'll find a review very soon of "The Cliff's Edge." It may not be the book you have in mind, but it's a truly remarkable story of insanity cured at long last by faith, therapy, and—perhaps most important of all—love . . . Marion Leedom calls my attention to miniature "Tea for Two" sets that have just arrived in our gift department. The prettily figured china trays hold two cups and saucers, sugar, creamer and doll-size teapot. A "spot of tea," you say? Well, these thimble-sized cups will hold just that and no more. They represent 50¢ of whimsy, and who ever outgrows that? . . . Laura Fabel tells me that there's no reason in the world why large women should not wear very sheer stockings. Many of them won't, however, because the hose will not stretch, and they have runs on the first wearing. Now Laura advises them to buy a 20 denier stocking, which stretches so generously one would think it was elasticized. And when they stretch, they're as sheer as any a Ziegfeld girl ever wore. Take the rib out of your hose, and wipe out that unfunny fat-girl rib, with something new and beautiful . . . I'm not sure about the occasion, but that was mighty delicious canteloupe Tommy Rinehart was serving in his office the other day. It's difficult to believe he was celebrating a birthday—he doesn't look a day older than when I first toddled around Wyckoff's some years ago . . . Have you had a nice hairdo recently? Don't forget our Beauty Salon! And while we're speaking about it, let's give credit to Mildred Sebring, who manages to keep her head when all about her are losing theirs. I personally gave Mildred a pretty tough time one day this week, but it didn't ruffle a hair on her head. Too bad this lady in white turned out to be "The lady with the clump" rather than "the lady with the lamp."

East Stroudsburg Seeks District Four Championship Today

Tresckow To Provide Title Opposition

East Stroudsburg will attempt to capture the District Four Little League playoff baseball championship for the first time today when the charges of Managers Paul Metzgar and Cliff Lambert play host to Tresckow, a club that has made a habit of winning the tough contests in recent weeks.

The game will be held on the East Stroudsburg field and the initial pitch is scheduled to take place at 6 p.m.

East Stroudsburg earned its present position in the sun by hurling such tough opposition as Bangor, Stroudsburg and McAdoo in that order. In winning three games thus far the East Stroudsburg contingent has given up only one run to the opposition.

Tresckow earned its spot in the District title game with a 1-0 verdict over Valley on Monday of this week. East Stroudsburg took the measure of Bangor, 1-0; Stroudsburg, 8-0; and McAdoo, 2-1.

Lineup
An air of mystery held sway over the East Stroudsburg camp last night and no announcements were made by either of the pilots. But it almost is a certainty that Jimmy Gerard, who blanketed Stroudsburg, will do the hurling today. Gerard played shortstop against McAdoo.

The remainder of the lineup will be pretty much the same as that which has carried the lead thus far. This means that John Penick will handle the catching chores, while Doug Metzgar plays at first base; Doug Dymond, second base; John Viechnicki, shortstop; Foster Ladles, third base; Joe Steele, left field; Evan Reese, center field, and Bill Pond, right field.

Charley "Butch" Lupin did the pitching for East Stroudsburg when the home team defeated both Bangor and McAdoo.

If East Stroudsburg should be fortunate enough to win today, it will represent District Four against District Three in East Stroudsburg on Monday.

Dark, Thompson In Special Drill

New York (AP) — Shortstop Alvin Dark and third baseman "Hank" Thompson of the New York Giants remained at the ball park after yesterday's games to take extra batting practice in an effort to snap out of protracted batting slumps.

Dodgers Stop Threat To Defeat Cubs, 3-1

Brooklyn (AP) — Russ Meyer of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched his 15th consecutive victory over his one-time teammates, the Chicago Cubs, last night, winning 3-1, but he needed help in the ninth when the Cubs put the tying runs on base. The triumph kept the Dodgers within two games of the league-leading New York Giants.

Dave Cole and Hal Jeffcoat held Brooklyn to four hits, the last one coming in the fourth inning when Roy Campanella smashed a home run into the lower left field stands.

Match
Campanella's blast matched one by Ralph Kiner in the top of the fourth that produced the only Chicago run.

Jim Hughes took over from Meyer with men on first and third and one out in the ninth. He struck out Ernie Banks and then at a breezed a third strike past catcher Clyde McCullough.

Johnson Pounds Out Victory Over Jones In Dull Bout In Madison Square Garden Ring

New York (AP) — Busy George Johnson used a stinging jab and a chopping right last night to win a unanimous decision over slugging Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., the eight to five favorite, in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Jones weighed 157, Johnson 154.

It was a dull bout, most of the way, with Jones waiting too long to start any effective attack. When he did, Johnson had too much for him, beating him off with a jarring jab and a right uppercut. Jones, who turned down an alleged $15,000 bribe offer before his June 11 losing bout with Joey Giardello, was cut around the left eye in the seventh round.

Jones, who vaulted into prominence with a pair of upset victories over Gil Turner, in Philadelphia, has now dropped his last two outings before New York audiences.

Referee Harry Kessler and Judge Artie Aidala both scored the fight 6-3-1 for Johnson. Judge

Arthur Susskind had it 6-4 for Johnson. The AP card also was 6-3-1 for Johnson, a 24-year-old boxer from Trenton, N. J.

For Jones, 28, a highly ranked boxer, this was a disappointing performance. Only in flashes, in the fifth and sixth did he open up with flurries. In the eighth, another burst of action by Jones seemed to bother Johnson but he stopped suddenly with a minute to go.

Jones claimed he sprained his ankle in the fourth round when Johnson stepped on his foot.

Stroudsburg Divides Two Swim Meets

Stroudsburg and Camp Miller divided a pair of swimming meets for the third straight time yesterday. The meets were held in the Stroudsburg pool.

In a meet for 15-year-olds and under Camp Miller scored an 18-14 victory.

Doug Shook opened with a win for Stroudsburg in the 25-yard crawl, while Bob Reddell and Henry Gerensperger, both of Miller, were second and third. Reddell came back to win the backstroke, while Shook was second and Jim Leslie, Miller, third.

Shook also won the breaststroke, while Bob Hillman, Miller, and Bill Bolich, Stroudsburg, came home second and third respectively. Stroudsburg won the medley with a team composed of Dick Strunk, Shook and Bolich.

Victory
Stroudsburg won the meet for 13-year-olds and under, by a 27-5 score. Dick Everett opened with a victory in the 20-yard crawl for the home team, while Ed Granville, Stroudsburg, was second and Steve Durst, Miller, third.

Everitt bounced right back to win the backstroke, with Bob Drunkemiller, Miller, and Tom Gross, Stroudsburg, second and third. John Gilpin was first in the breaststroke for Stroudsburg, while teammate "Butch" Kemmerer was second. Dick Grote, Miller, was third.

Stroudsburg won the medley relay with a team of Everett, Gilpin, and Granville. The same teams meet at Camp Miller today at 2:30 p.m.

A basketball game between the same two rivals was played at Stroudsburg Playground yesterday also with Camp Miller finishing on the long end of a 28-25 count. The two cage squads clash at Camp Miller today.

Robinson's Father Dies In Dallas

Dallas, Tex. (AP) — Funeral services for William E. Robinson, 65, father of New York Yankee baseball player Eddie Robinson, will be held in Paris, Tex., today.

Milwaukee Turns Pirates Into Sixth Straight Victim, 6-4

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves won their sixth consecutive game last night, overcoming an early deficit to beat the last place Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4. Rookie outfielder "Hank" Aaron drove in three of the Braves' runs as he hit two singles and a triple in five trips.

Preston Ward got the Pirates off to a flying start with a two-run homer in the first but the Braves pecked away, scoring single runs in the second, third and fifth innings to take a lead they never surrendered.

First Hit
Aaron's first hit, a single in the fifth, scored Danny O'Connell who had tripled. In the sixth inning he tripled home Billy Bruton and Ed Mathews. Bruton had doubled and Mathews had been purposely passed.

The Pirates came back with two runs in their half of the sixth, driving starter Lew Burdette from the mound. However, Burdette was credited with the victory, his ninth against 11 defeats. Dave Jolly turned in a fine relief job, giving up but one hit in the last three innings.

The defeat was charged to starter Dick Littlefield, who was relieved in the fifth. He has a 3-5 mark.

Phillies Edge Redlegs, 3-2

Philadelphia (AP) — Earl Torgeson tripled in the eighth inning and scooped on "Smoky" Burgess' long fly as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Cincinnati Redlegs 3-2 last night to move into the National League's fourth spot.

Dinermen Rally To Down VFW

Rickey Rates Williams As Second Best Player Since 1920; Ruth Holds Number One Position

New York (AP) — Branch Rickey has reduced the evaluation of a whole baseball team and an individual player to a mathematical equation.

The general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates has worked out a revolutionary formula which shows why pennant winning teams during the last 35 years have been successful.

In a bylined story in Life Magazine, the 70-year-old father of the farm system, names his 25 greatest hitters and 32 top pitchers since 1920, and attempts to prove why through a complicated mathematical formula.

Rickey's findings are mostly expected but some are bound to be shockers. For instance, Ty Cobb, regarded by many as the greatest of all batters, ranks only 23rd according to the Rickey formula. "Babe" Ruth, voted the number one player of all time in The Associated Press half century poll several years ago, is ranked at the top.

Such immortal hall of fame members as George Sisler, Bill Terry and Paul Waner are not listed in the top 25.

Rickey also rates Carl Hubbell, the New York Giants' southpaw of the 1920s and '30s, as the greatest pitcher since 1920, above such illustrious hurlers as Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander, "Lefty" Grove and "Dizzy" Dean. Johnson, of course, had his best years before 1920.

Formula
The formula, as applied to the gauging and analyzing of team performance, is simple enough, even with the bizarre use of symbols and equations Rickey uses. It boils down to this—the team with the widest plus margin in scoring runs as compared to the giving up of runs usually wins the pennant.

The three basic, measurable ingredients Rickey uses for offense are: On base average, extra base power and clutch hitting combined with speed and ability to take the extra base.

Using his method, Rickey rates Ted Williams second to Ruth among the greatest players since 1920. Lou Gehrig is third, followed in order by Jimmy Fox, Rogers Hornsby, "Hank" Greenberg, Ralph Kiner, Stan Musial, Joe DiMaggio and Mel Ott. Tris Speaker ranks no better than 14th.

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Jimmy Carter, now training for a fight against Glenn Flanagan, in Chicago, next Wednesday, made many friends during a visit to Stroudsburg earlier in the week. Jimmy is currently training at nearby Harry's Farm. Carter will work out lightly today and depart for Chicago tomorrow morning and not today as previously planned. There will be no boxing today, as both sparring partners departed for their homes following yesterday's workout.

The resignation of Floyd "Red" Patterson, publicity director of the New York Yankees until Tuesday of this week, didn't come as any sort of a surprise. This scribe is only one of many who hate to see "Red" leave the House that Ruth built. Patterson was extremely kind to this reporter on many occasions and was one of my closest contacts in major league baseball. "Red" is the type of fellow who treats the big and small alike and wins friends on both sides while turning the trick.

It is quite possible that Patterson may take over a similar position with another major league ball club. The reason for the departure of "Red" was given as clashing personalities with general manager George Weiss. Dick Ashner, a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College track squad, is a life guard at Hickory Run state park this summer. Dick threw the discus and shot put on the track team last spring.

Fred and Portland Allen, famed radio and television comedians, surprised everyone by visiting briefly at the Shawnee Inn and Country Club golf shop yesterday afternoon. The Shawnee pro staff will present its "The Swings The Thing" golf show at Atlantic City today. Although very little has been said about it of late, work continues on a voluntary basis at Memorial Stadium each night and the job is being done in tip-top fashion.

A group of local men attending last Sunday's New York-Cleveland baseball game, at Yankee Stadium, made a mark on the big city through the art of photography. All are extremely photogenic. Friends of Johnny Antonelli, Giant pitcher who registered his 15th win of the season yesterday, are currently vacationing in the Swiftwater area. At least five baseballs autographed by major league baseball clubs will be given away as prizes at the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities show on Sunday, August 15.

East Stroudsburg will put its Little League winning streak on the line today against Trescow for the District Four championship. A victory today would be the first of its kind for any Little League team in this area and would place the Eastburg squad only two games away from a trip to Williamsport. Possibly the largest crowd to ever witness a Little League baseball contest will be present for today's encounters.

Hal Contini, manager of the Lebanon entry in the now defunct North Atlantic League, is still very active as a pilot in the St. Louis Cardinal's farm system. Hal was recently changed from the helm of Paducah, class "D" Kitty League, to guide the destinies of Johnson City, class "D" Appalachian League. Contini, who plays shortstop, is hitting at a .306 clip at the present time. Hal had Paducah in seventh place in the standings and takes over at Johnson City with that organization currently occupying the number five spot.

Area athletic fields and golf courses are in truly bad shape because of current dry conditions. Coaches are already worried about conditions of area fields for football practice next month. The ground will be tremendously hard and may result in more than the usual number of pre-season injuries. High school football practice gets underway on Wednesday, August 18. One of the Monroe County League schools will feature a new basketball coach this coming season. An official announcement is expected in the very near future.

We also have a major athletic announcement coming from another area school by the middle of next month. Several clubs in the Blue Mountain League are in poor financial condition. But Stockertown is apparently the only one operating under critical circumstances at the present time. Stockertown will play only first division clubs for the balance of the current campaign.

Clothiers Eliminate Marketeers From Tournament

Makosky's Bat Carries Club To Final Round

Ted Getz Clothier eliminated Jack's Market from the Monroe County Softball League tournament last night by an 8-6 count, at Stroudsburg Playground.

It was the second loss in as many days for Jack's Market, first half champion in the regular flag race and pre-tournament favorite. The victory enabled the Clothier sluggers to meet Kulp's Foundry, winner over Jack's team Tuesday, in the championship round of the tournament today, at Stroudsburg Playground, at 6:30 p. m.

Kulp's Foundry is undefeated in tournament play, while the Clothier club lost its opening game, but bounced back to win the next four. If Kulp's club should win today the tournament is over, while a Getz victory would make one more contest necessary to decide a champion.

Long Hits

Jim "Red" Makosky, Getz left fielder, sparked his club to victory with one of the longest home runs ever hit at Stroudsburg Playground and a long triple. The home run went to the road far beyond right field and the triple carried in the same direction.

Henry "Hank" Stettler pitched a neat seven hitter against the Marketeers, while his mates pounded Marc Decker for nine.

The Clothier contingent jumped into a 2-0 lead in the third inning and then kept pace with Jack's club in the scoring column the remainder of the distance to earn the victory.

Chicago (AP)—The New York Yankees yesterday recalled left-hander Art Schallack from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League in a move to help the club's pitching.

One Drop

Schallack, 28, will join the Yankees in a few days, but before he can be put on the roster, one player must be dropped as the squad now is at its limit of 25 plus service returnees.

Line Material Uses Two Big Frames To Sink Ronson, 11-3

Line Material squeezed all of its runs into two innings last night while scoring an 11-3 victory over Ronson in a Babe Ruth League of the Stroudsburg baseball game played at Gordon Ciffels field.

The winning aggregation pushed four of its runs into paydirt in the home half of the first inning, after Ronson scored twice in the top half of the first.

Portland Stops Johnsonville With One Hit

Portland — Al Stull and Dick Egbert combined in a one-hit pitching job last night as Portland took the measure of Johnsonville in a Blue Mountain League game held here, 4-2.

The Stull-Egbert combination was too much for youthful Dick Shuster who limited Portland, currently second in the standings, to only four safeties.

Two Innings

All scoring was confined to two innings. Both teams scored once in the first inning and Portland came back with a 3-1 edge in the sixth stanza to win the game.

Portland scored its three winning runs on two hits, a walk and a balk by Shuster.

Each team committed two errors.

Indians Nip Red Sox To Maintain Lead

Cleveland (AP)—Making the most of five hits off Boston's rookie Russ Kemmerer, Cleveland pounded the Red Sox last night for the second straight time in a 2-1 game that kept the Indians in the American League's first place by two and a half games. Righthander Early Wynn yielded 11 hits to Boston as he posted his 14th victory.

Scoreless

Until the sixth inning, Kemmerer held the Tribe scoreless with only two hits. The Boston rookie now has two losses against one victory, which was a one-hitter against Baltimore in his major league debut.

The Red Sox tallied their lone run in the fifth inning on singles by Bill Sosola, Jim Piersall and Ted Williams.

Every man in the Red Sox lineup except Sammy White got at least one hit off Wynn.

Playoff Berths At Stake In Association

Lake Ariel — Gouldsboro's defeat of the other Wayne County entry, Hamlin, last Sunday, virtually clinched the flag for the Goldies and, of course, a spot in the post-season playoffs of the Pocono Mountains Association. Hamlin, too, has won a place in the extra-curricular activity, but since it is two games behind the pacesetters, it has only the remotest chance of even tying for top.

Hence, the interest from now on in will center in the spirited battle being waged by the other five clubs for the two remaining playoff berths, and of these St. Catherine's of Moscow has the deepest row to hoe, though it is but two games behind the third place clubs, Tobyhanna and Mount Cobb.

Oddly enough and much to the satisfaction of the area's fans, all of the games on this Sunday's agenda bring together traditional rivals and with this as a background anything could happen, even to the leaders.

Good Show

Hamlin and Mount Cobb always put on a good show and when these rivals meet on the Mountaineers' greensward a repetition of their stirring contests of the past can be expected. Earlier in the year the Cobbers extended the Highlanders and on that particular afternoon were lacking in the batting power, which is their forte. And they have a pitcher now in Marty Ornosky, who could make things tough for the Les Black troupe.

Tobyhanna, the lone Monroe County entry, engages Gouldsboro on the Goldies' field and though the most-improved club in the league in the past month, could find playing off their own diamond a handicap. However, they've beaten Gouldsboro before and figure to do it again with Johnny Dunning pitching, with undefeated Sam Curtis opposing.

And one can't forget Moscow-Maple Lake, which contest, regardless of the club's standing, would mean a successful season for the winner. Jerry Stepinski, Moscow, is a certain starter; Jake Blumer of the Chix is undecided.

Paupack's Early Advantage Too Much For Newfoundland

Newfoundland—Paupack pounded out a 14-4 verdict over Newfoundland in a Wayne County Junior League baseball game here last night, despite the fine showing of Dave Meyer in the late innings.

Although the game was played here Newfoundland filled the role of visiting team, due to the fact that the contest was switched from Paupack at the last moment.

Run Wild

Paupack quickly constructed a 14-0 lead in the first four innings off Carl Rose, but couldn't solve the pitching slants of Meyer in the last two innings.

Meyer, in addition to pitching fine ball, whacked a double and two triples in three official trips to the plate.

Newfoundland helped to dig its own grave by committing eight errors, although outbait by a 10-7 margin.

Rhodes Hits Three Homers, Mays Slams 36th Four Bagger As Giants Blank Cardinals, 10-0

New York (AP) — Jim "Dusty" Rhodes smashed three home runs and Willie Mays clouted his 36th homer of the season as the New York Giants broke out of their six-game losing streak with a resounding 10-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

Johnny Antonelli pitched the shutout, his fifth of the season, spacing 10 hits for his 15th triumph against only two defeats. It was the 10th straight victory for the young left-hander who has not been beaten since May 21.

Rhodes, in the lineup only because Manager Leo Durocher had decided to bench Monte Irvin, drove in four runs with his trio of homers. He also contributed a spectacular backhanded catch in leftfield.

Second Time

It was the second time in his brief major league career that Rhodes had hit three homers in one game. The slugging outfielder rapped three homers last August 26, also against the Cardinals.

Dusty's first home yesterday came off starter and loser Tom Poholsky in the second inning. His second came in the sixth, off southpaw Alpha Brazle. It came on the heels of a tremendous 450-foot smash by Mays over the visiting team's bullpen in the deepest leftfield corner. Rhodes, third homer came in the eighth, off Royce Lint, another lefty.

The Giants rolled up 13 hits which also included a home run by Ray Katt. The rookie catcher climaxed a five-run Giant eighth by depositing his third homer in to the upper leftfield seats scoring two mates ahead of him.

Mantle's Drive In Ninth Gives Yankees Win

Chicago (AP) — Mickey Mantle smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning, after the game had been delayed one hour and eight minutes by rain, to give the New York Yankees an uphill 7-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

Mantle's blast into the center-field stands, his 21st homer of the season, was the finishing touch to a game of strategic shenanigans by rival managers, who used a total of 39 players.

Record

Most of the fans in a crowd of 38,056—largest week day crowd in Comiskey Park history—saw the Yankees win the game in the eighth and lasted four hours 45 minutes, including two rain enforced delays. Although sand, the infield was extremely slippery.

Mantle slammed the clincher off

Jack Harshman, sixth of seven Sox pitchers, after Irv Noren had led off the ninth with a walk and Joe Collins had singled him to third. Collins took second on the throw-in by rightfielder Jim Rivera that contest that was finished under the lights.

In the eighth, the Sox had stifled minutes, including two rain enforced delays. Although sand, the infield was extremely slippery. Mantle slammed the clincher off

Technician Contradicts Osteopath

CLEVELAND (AP)—Susan Hayes, a pretty sunnied girl with a string of freckles across her nose, has admitted intimacies with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and also that she received a number of expensive gifts from him, County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan said yesterday.

Brought up in nearby Rocky River, Miss Hayes once worked at Bay View Hospital where Dr. Sheppard practices in suburban Bay Village. She left there early this year to take a job in Los Angeles.

The California intimacies, Cullitan said, were while Dr. Sheppard and Miss Hayes were staying at the home of another osteopath, Dr. Arthur Miller.

DR. SHEPPARD went to Los Angeles to take a post graduate course in osteopathy and while he was there his wife stayed with friends 375 miles north at Monterey. Dr. Sheppard told the coroner's inquest that he gave Sandra the
